

Minimising the spread of Covid-19

As we begin to return to workplaces post COVID-19, we know that some things have got to change. Some in the short term, but some will be long-lasting new behaviours. Hand sanitisation will remain critical to this “next normal,” and ensuring the safety, security and wellness of people in your premises is a fundamental part of effective and successful re-entry into your environments.

The use of hand sanitiser will play an essential role in promoting the health and wellness of your employees or students, and visitors so it's really important that you can provide and dispense this product hygienically, easily, frequently (particularly in high risk) areas, and in a way that keeps awareness high around the importance of hand hygiene.

We have manufactured our own sanitiser stations that can be positioned around your premises, particularly for entry and exit points, so that anyone entering or leaving can thoroughly sanitise their hands. These units can be deployed anywhere in your building and are compatible with any 5 litre sanitiser dispenser.

These sanitiser stations are highly visual and draw attention to the need to maintain meticulous hand hygiene which will be critical in ensuring your buildings are safe and resilient in mitigating the risk of virus transmission.

- Can be used with any liquid or gel sanitiser
- Fits a 5 litre container for long lasting use
- Powder coated so can be easily cleaned and maintained
- Manufactured in the UK
